A day in the life at F6

I arrive at College at 8:30. I stop by the on site cafe 'Shades' where I pick up a blueberry muffin and a coffee before class. I check my timetable for the day and catch up with my College emails.

My first class of the day is Criminology. We analysed how some crimes go undetected and investigated a mock up crime scene.

My next class of the day is Sociology. We researched the 'Sociology of Youth' and how it links to crime. I have to produce a presentation ready for my next lesson.

Then it was time for lunch! I met up with my friends in The Quad and went to check out the food, music and entertainment put on for Freshers Week.

After lunch it was time to practice my communication skills in Tutorial as we completed group tasks. We learnt about all the clubs and societies we can join and I signed up for Debate Society and Performing Arts.

During a Study Period I completed homework in the Mac suite. Good places to study include the LRC areas. At 4:30 I took the bus home from outside College.
